Society of St Stephen's House ROPA document - Alumni, Donors and Supporters of the College

ID.	Category of personal data	Source of the data	Why we process it	How long we keep this data	Our lawful basis for processing	Details relating to lawful basis (where	Special category grounds	Special category- details of public interest etc (where appropriate)	Criminal Conviction Grounds	Criminal conviction grounds (further information)
1	Contact details (name, current and historic addresses, telephone numbers), as amended from time to time: per event, but not as a retained list.	We obtain this data from the University of Oxford We obtain this data from you We obtain this data from third parties, such as public directories (e.g. Crockfords Clerical Dictionary)	In order to be able to contact alumni and continue to develop the ongoing relationship between the College and its alumni. We continue to hold historic addresses to facilitate contact, as they often remain valid addresses for contact, and may represent additional properties used by an alumnus. They also assist in our checks on the accuracy of our records.	Permanently.	Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms	We, and you, have a legitimate interest in the College maintaining contact information in order to facilitate communication between us.	 		N/A
2	Development and Alumni Relations System ("DARS") records	We obtain this data from the University of Oxford We obtain this data from you We obtain this data from third parties, such as public directories (e.g. Crockfords Clerical Dictionary)	In addition to records held by the College, independently, the College also uses a contact database (DARS) to undertake the majority of development and alumni processes. DARS is a shared system used by Development and Alumni Relations colleagues across the collegiate University. DARS has a shared layer of data (contact information, education/interest data, fact of whether someone is a donor or not) which is available to all users. Users with specific roles (such as event managers and fundraisers) are able to see an extended range of data. As regards donations and connected details, the College can only see donations made to the College.	Permanently.	where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms You have given your consent to the processing for one or more specific purposes	We have a legitimate interest in fundraising and alumni relations activities, including seeking donations in person, by telephone and via physical and virtual written communications. We also use the system to conduct statistical analysis of our activities and donor base, to make forecasts and predictions about philanthropic activity, gauge levels of support and ensure our messaging is timely and relevant. DARs is also used to identify alumni who may be appropriate guest speakers at events. DARS is also used to provide relevant correspondence to donors, to serve as tax receipts, and to ensure that the collegiate University's ethical framework and reputation is not compromised by the acceptance of any gifts. It also serves an event management purpose.	N/A	The categories and groupings of data collected and processed by the College using DARS, are split out in the other rows of this record. please refer to the rest of this table to identify the legal basis the College has for processing that type of data about you.	N/A	The categories and groupings of data collected and processed by the College using DARS, are split out in the other rows of this record. please refer to the rest of this table to identify the legal basis the College has for processing that type of data about you.
3	Legacy documentation, including correspondence with future and prospective legators, copies of relevant wills or sections of wills.		at the appropriate time, and to enable the College to plan for the future. We also stored and use this information so that the College/University can accurately follow the	the College and/or University in perpetuity. Where a legacy contains conditions, directions or is subject to a dispute, we will retain all information held pertaining to that legacy until (a) 15 years following the end of the	compliance with a legal obligation Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except	The College has a legitimate interest in seeking legacy donations, holding a record of expected legacy donations, thanking legators and their families, and having materials available to demonstrate the College's interests in such funds.	N/A		N/A
4	Library records: details of your name, book donations you have made, and dates of donations are retained by the College library.	We obtain this data from you and generate this data about you. We obtain this data from third party, such as solicitors, family and others releasing details of will	To recognise and record the contribution made by individuals to the College.	We retain details of such donations permanently.	Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms	We, and you, have a legitimate interest in recording and recognising the contributions you have made to the College.	N/A		N/A
5	Information about your health, dietary requirements and/or disabilities.	Also third party (EventBrite etc)	When we consider what reasonable adjustments to make, or we need to take account of any dietary requirements you have (whether for medical or belief reasons), when planning for you attendance at alumni events. In addition, we have an obligation to confirm that the College is following applicable fundraising policies (such as vulnerable person policies). Further, if you request that we cease to contact you, we will record the reason you give (if any) for statistical purposes. [Please confirm whether you do, in fact, run statistics regarding the reasons people decline contact? No other special category ground appears relevant (outside of consent)]	For as long as necessary	Processing is necessary for compliance with a legal obligation Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms	Processing is necessary for compliance with equality law, and/or food safety law. We are also required [by law?] to implement and check compliance with certain policies regarding our fundraising activities. We, and you, also have a legitimate interest in ensuring that you receive an appropriate service and treatment in your interactions with us, including in our ability to proactively offer you facilities designed to meet your needs.		Where it processes special category data for these purposes, the College is exercising functions conferred under the Equality Act 2010 and/or pursuant to its obligations under health and safety legislation. The processing is necessary for reasons of substantial public interest, namely that the College must comply with its statutory obligations concerning equal opportunity and to make reasonable adjustments, and to comply with its health and safety obligations.
6	Records of College cultural life both while you attended the University and as alumnus: photographs and written records of teams, choirs, clubs and societies, plays and performances, of participation in events and sporting fixtures and of their outcomes.	We obtain this data from you We generate this data about you	To maintain a record of College life, which may be relevant to you individually (for example if you later request a reference from us), and which is also part of the College's history of what its members have achieved over time. We also add the facts of your memberships/interests, activities and achievements onto our database, to ensure we offer a personalised experience in our relationship with you.		Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms	The College has a legitimate interest in maintaining a record of its cultural life. We, and you also have a legitimate interest in ensuring that we have a positive and well-informed ongoing relationship.	Processing relates to personal data which you have manifestly made public, or made available to the University	To the extent that special category data is retained, this will be data that you have made public via your membership of relevant societies, attendance at and participation in events.	N/A

7
'	Financial information including your contact information and details of invoicing and	We obtain this data from you We generate this data about	To take and/or pursue outstanding sums due to the College.	Payment and invoicing data will be retained for [7 years] following date of	Processing is necessary for		N/A		N/A outstanding payments (including payment	vou	to the conege.	payment. Data may be retained for a information such as credit card or banking	We obtain this data from the		longer period in the event of a	Processing is necessary for the payment information) for: accommodation,	University of Oxford and DARS		dispute.	performance of a task carried deposits, food and drink, use of sporting and	,			out in the public interest other facilities, as we have arranged with you.
8	Opinions and comments made by you on	We obtain this data from you	The views, ideas and concerns of alumni help	For as long as necessary	Processing is necessary for the	We have a legitimate interest in operating a	N/A		N/A
	College development and outreach programs	and generate this data about	to guide College development activities. Such		purposes of our or someone	proactive, positive and engaged development and events, as expressed in communications	you.	comments would only be recorded in relation		else's legitimate interests, except	program.
	with the College (to the extent recorded)		to a specific alumnus where we have been		where overridden by your data clear that the relevant survey is not		protection rights and freedoms anonymous, or where the relevant opinions were expressed in correspondence which is retained. The College uses alumni comments to evaluate the success of events, activities, and to shape future strategy.
			and to shape rature strategy.
9	Correspondence with you	We obtain this data from you	To hold an accurate record of our	For as long as necessary	Processing is necessary for the	We, and you, have a legitimate interests in the	N/A		N/A communications with you to ensure we can		purposes of our or someone	College holding a full record of our maintain continuity in our lifelong relationship			correspondence with you, which can be with our alumni.		where overridden by your data	referred back to over the course of our protection rights and freedoms	relationship.
10	Donation histories, including contacts made,	We obtain this data from you.	To record the source of monies received,	We keep a skeleton record, including	Processing is necessary for the	We have a legitimate interest in holding	N/A		N/A details of amounts given and pledged, projects			details of any expressions of wish,	purposes of our or someone	records of the support you have provided to supported, Gift Aid forms (including name,		1	permanently. Additional transaction		the College. You have a legitimate interest in address and other details).	portal);	the College. We may also need to provide	information is held for seven years	where overridden by your data	our recording and recognising that support.
		We generate this data about	some details to HMRC in compliance with legal	post donation.	protection rights and freedoms you	obligations. We also recognise our donors for the full spectrum of support they provide and seek to keep them updated about the projects they have supported, if they so wish.
			,,
		1	1	l	i e
11	Biographical information, including	We obtain this data from the	To understand your interests and occupation,	For as long as necessary	Processing is necessary for	We have a legitimate interest in pursuing a	Explicit consent	We avoid storing any special category data on	The processing meets a condition in	Further processing activity carried out by the PPH which relates Biographical information, including your interests, family news, educational	We obtain this data from the University of Oxford (DARS)	To understand your interests and occupation, in order to deepen our ongoing relationship	For as long as necessary	Processing is necessary for compliance with a legal	We have a legitimate interest in pursuing a positive long term relationship with our	Explicit consent	We avoid storing any special category data on a record relating to religious beliefs, political	The processing meets a condition in Part 2 of Schedule 1 to the Data	Further processing activity carried out by the PPH which relates to criminal offences or allegations involving donors and University of Oxford (DARS)	in order to deepen our ongoing relationship with you. Alumni often provide us information				Explicit consent	a record relating to religious beliefs, political your interests, family news, educational	University of Oxford (DARS)	in order to deepen our ongoing relationship with you. Alumni often provide us information specifically for the College record or as news,		compliance with a legal obligation	positive long term relationship with our	Explicit consent	a record relating to religious beliefs, political persuasion. However, it is possible that there might be information attached to an alum's	Part 2 of Schedule 1 to the Data	to criminal offences or allegations involving donors and supporters including prospective donors and supporters (for example, in relation to money laundering or bribery offences)
	your interests, family news, educational history and achievements, employment history	University of Oxford (DARS) We obtain this data from you We generate this data about you	in order to deepen our ongoing relationship with you. Alumni often provide us information specifically for the College record or as news, which we will also record on our alumni		compliance with a legal obligation Processing is necessary for the	positive long term relationship with our	Explicit consent	a record relating to religious beliefs, political persuasion. However, it is possible that there might be information attached to an alum's record, in a note, in some correspondence	Part 2 of Schedule 1 to the Data	to criminal offences or allegations involving donors and supporters including prospective donors and supporters (for example, in relation to money laundering or bribery offences) may also be carried out for the purposes of:
	your interests, family news, educational history and achievements, employment history	University of Oxford (DARS) We obtain this data from you	in order to deepen our ongoing relationship with you. Alumni often provide us information specifically for the College record or as news, which we will also record on our alumni database. We may also be required by law, in		compliance with a legal obligation Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone	positive long term relationship with our alumni.	Explicit consent	a record relating to religious beliefs, political persuasion. However, it is possible that there might be information attached to an alum's record, in a note, in some correspondence from the alum themselves, etc that could	Part 2 of Schedule 1 to the Data	to criminal offences or allegations involving donors and supporters including prospective donors and supporters (for example, in relation to money laundering or bribery offences) may also be carried out for the purposes of: 1. complying with, or assisting other persons to comply with, a
	your interests, family news, educational history and achievements, employment history	University of Oxford (DARS) We obtain this data from you We generate this data about you	in order to deepen our ongoing relationship with you. Alumni often provide us information specifically for the College record or as news, which we will also record on our alumni database. We may also be required by law, in certain specific circumstances, to process this		compliance with a legal obligation Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except	positive long term relationship with our alumni.	Explicit consent	a record relating to religious beliefs, political persuasion. However, it is possible that there might be information attached to an alum's record, in a note, in some correspondence from the alum themselves, etc that could provide an indication of such beliefs (e.g. letter	Part 2 of Schedule 1 to the Data	to criminal offences or allegations involving donors and supporters including prospective donors and supporters (for example, in relation to money laundering or bribery offences) may also be carried out for the purposes of: 1. complying with, or assisting other persons to comply with, a regulatory requirement which involves the PPH taking steps to
	your interests, family news, educational history and achievements, employment history	University of Oxford (DARS) We obtain this data from you We generate this data about you	in order to deepen our ongoing relationship with you. Alumni often provide us information specifically for the College record or as news, which we will also record on our alumni database. We may also be required by law, in		compliance with a legal obligation Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data	positive long term relationship with our alumni.	Explicit consent	a record relating to religious beliefs, political persuasion. However, it is possible that there might be information attached to an alum's record, in a note, in some correspondence from the alum themselves, etc that could	Part 2 of Schedule 1 to the Data	to criminal offences or allegations involving donors and supporters including prospective donors and supporters (for example, in relation to money laundering or bribery offences) may also be carried out for the purposes of: 1. complying with, or assisting other persons to comply with, a regulatory requirement which involves the PPH taking steps to establish whether another person has:
	your interests, family news, educational history and achievements, employment history	University of Oxford (DARS) We obtain this data from you We generate this data about you	in order to deepen our ongoing relationship with you. Alumni often provide us information specifically for the College record or as news, which we will also record on our alumni database. We may also be required by law, in certain specific circumstances, to process this		compliance with a legal obligation Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except	positive long term relationship with our alumni.	Explicit consent	a record relating to religious beliefs, political persuasion. However, it is possible that there might be information attached to an alum's record, in a note, in some correspondence from the alum themselves, etc that could provide an indication of such beliefs (e.g. letter	Part 2 of Schedule 1 to the Data	to criminal offences or allegations involving donors and supporters including prospective donors and supporters (for example, in relation to money laundering or bribery offences) may also be carried out for the purposes of: 1. complying with, or assisting other persons to comply with, a regulatory requirement which involves the PPH taking steps to
	your interests, family news, educational history and achievements, employment history	University of Oxford (DARS) We obtain this data from you We generate this data about you	in order to deepen our ongoing relationship with you. Alumni often provide us information specifically for the College record or as news, which we will also record on our alumni database. We may also be required by law, in certain specific circumstances, to process this		compliance with a legal obligation Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data	positive long term relationship with our alumni.	Explicit consent	a record relating to religious beliefs, political persuasion. However, it is possible that there might be information attached to an alum's record, in a note, in some correspondence from the alum themselves, etc that could provide an indication of such beliefs (e.g. letter	Part 2 of Schedule 1 to the Data	to criminal offences or allegations involving donors and supporters including prospective donors and supporters (for example, in relation to money laundering or bribery offences) may also be carried out for the purposes of: 1. complying with, or assisting other persons to comply with, a regulatory requirement which involves the PPH taking steps to establish whether another person has: a. committed an unlawful act, or:
	your interests, family news, educational history and achievements, employment history	University of Oxford (DARS) We obtain this data from you We generate this data about you	in order to deepen our ongoing relationship with you. Alumni often provide us information specifically for the College record or as news, which we will also record on our alumni database. We may also be required by law, in certain specific circumstances, to process this		compliance with a legal obligation Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data	positive long term relationship with our alumni.	Explicit consent	a record relating to religious beliefs, political persuasion. However, it is possible that there might be information attached to an alum's record, in a note, in some correspondence from the alum themselves, etc that could provide an indication of such beliefs (e.g. letter	Part 2 of Schedule 1 to the Data	to criminal offences or allegations involving donors and supporters including prospective donors and supporters (for example, in relation to money laundering or bribery offences) may also be carried out for the purposes of: 1. complying with, or assisting other persons to comply with, a regulatory requirement which involves the PPH taking steps to establish whether another person has: a. committed an unlawful act, or: b. been involved in dishonesty, malpractice or other seriously
	your interests, family news, educational history and achievements, employment history	University of Oxford (DARS) We obtain this data from you We generate this data about you	in order to deepen our ongoing relationship with you. Alumni often provide us information specifically for the College record or as news, which we will also record on our alumni database. We may also be required by law, in certain specific circumstances, to process this		compliance with a legal obligation Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data	positive long term relationship with our alumni.	Explicit consent	a record relating to religious beliefs, political persuasion. However, it is possible that there might be information attached to an alum's record, in a note, in some correspondence from the alum themselves, etc that could provide an indication of such beliefs (e.g. letter	Part 2 of Schedule 1 to the Data	to criminal offences or allegations involving donors and supporters including prospective donors and supporters (for example, in relation to money laundering or bribery offences) may also be carried out for the purposes of: 1. complying with, or assisting other persons to comply with, a regulatory requirement which involves the PPH taking steps to establish whether another person has: a. committed an unlawful act, or: b. been involved in dishonesty, malpractice or other seriously improper conduct; and, 2. In the circumstances, St Stephen's House cannot reasonably be expected to obtain your consent to the processing, and the
	your interests, family news, educational history and achievements, employment history	University of Oxford (DARS) We obtain this data from you We generate this data about you	in order to deepen our ongoing relationship with you. Alumni often provide us information specifically for the College record or as news, which we will also record on our alumni database. We may also be required by law, in certain specific circumstances, to process this		compliance with a legal obligation Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data	positive long term relationship with our alumni.	Explicit consent	a record relating to religious beliefs, political persuasion. However, it is possible that there might be information attached to an alum's record, in a note, in some correspondence from the alum themselves, etc that could provide an indication of such beliefs (e.g. letter	Part 2 of Schedule 1 to the Data	to criminal offences or allegations involving donors and supporters including prospective donors and supporters (for example, in relation to money laundering or bribery offences) may also be carried out for the purposes of: 1. complying with, or assisting other persons to comply with, a regulatory requirement which involves the PPH taking steps to establish whether another person has: a. committed an unlawful act, or: b. been involved in dishonesty, malpractice or other seriously improper conduct; and, 2. In the circumstances, St Stephen's House cannot reasonably be expected to obtain your consent to the processing, and the processing is necessary for reasons of substantial public
	your interests, family news, educational history and achievements, employment history	University of Oxford (DARS) We obtain this data from you We generate this data about you	in order to deepen our ongoing relationship with you. Alumni often provide us information specifically for the College record or as news, which we will also record on our alumni database. We may also be required by law, in certain specific circumstances, to process this		compliance with a legal obligation Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data	positive long term relationship with our alumni.	Explicit consent	a record relating to religious beliefs, political persuasion. However, it is possible that there might be information attached to an alum's record, in a note, in some correspondence from the alum themselves, etc that could provide an indication of such beliefs (e.g. letter	Part 2 of Schedule 1 to the Data	to criminal offences or allegations involving donors and supporters including prospective donors and supporters (for example, in relation to money laundering or bribery offences) may also be carried out for the purposes of: 1. complying with, or assisting other persons to comply with, a regulatory requirement which involves the PPH taking steps to establish whether another person has: a. committed an unlawful act, or: b. been involved in dishonesty, malpractice or other seriously improper conduct; and, 2. In the circumstances, St Stephen's House cannot reasonably be expected to obtain your consent to the processing, and the
	your interests, family news, educational history and achievements, employment history and current role details	University of Oxford (DARS) We obtain this data from you We generate this data about you Third party	in order to deepen our ongoing relationship with you. Alumni often provide us information specifically for the College record or as news, which we will also record on our alumni database. We may also be required by law, in certain specific circumstances, to process this information.		compliance with a legal obligation Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms	positive long term relationship with our alumni.		a record relating to religious beliefs, political persuasion. However, it is possible that there might be information attached to an alum's record, in a note, in some correspondence from the alum themselves, etc that could provide an indication of such beliefs (e.g. letter from Reverend on headed paper from Church).	Part 2 of Schedule 1 to the Data Protection Act 2018	to criminal offences or allegations involving donors and supporters including prospective donors and supporters (for example, in relation to money laundering or bribery offences) may also be carried out for the purposes of: 1. complying with, or assisting other persons to comply with, a regulatory requirement which involves the PPH taking steps to establish whether another person has: a. committed an unlawful act, or: b. been involved in dishonesty, malpractice or other seriously improper conduct; and, 2. In the circumstances, St Stephen's House cannot reasonably be expected to obtain your consent to the processing, and the processing is necessary for reasons of substantial public
	your interests, family news, educational history and achievements, employment history and current role details Records of your attendance at College and	University of Oxford (DARS) We obtain this data from you We generate this data about you Third party We obtain this data from the	in order to deepen our ongoing relationship with you. Alumni often provide us information specifically for the College record or as news, which we will also record on our alumni database. We may also be required by law, in certain specific circumstances, to process this information. To maintain a record of College life, which may		compliance with a legal obligation Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the	positive long term relationship with our alumni. The College has a legitimate interest in	Processing relates to	a record relating to religious beliefs, political persuasion. However, it is possible that there might be information attached to an alum's record, in a note, in some correspondence from the alum themselves, etc that could provide an indication of such beliefs (e.g. letter from Reverend on headed paper from Church). To the extent that special category data is	Part 2 of Schedule 1 to the Data	to criminal offences or allegations involving donors and supporters including prospective donors and supporters (for example, in relation to money laundering or bribery offences) may also be carried out for the purposes of: 1. complying with, or assisting other persons to comply with, a regulatory requirement which involves the PPH taking steps to establish whether another person has: a. committed an unlawful act, or: b. been involved in dishonesty, malpractice or other seriously improper conduct; and, 2. In the circumstances, St Stephen's House cannot reasonably be expected to obtain your consent to the processing, and the processing is necessary for reasons of substantial public
	your interests, family news, educational history and achievements, employment history and current role details Records of your attendance at College and University events, and other involvement in	University of Oxford (DARS) We obtain this data from you We generate this data about you Third party We obtain this data from the University of Oxford	in order to deepen our ongoing relationship with you. Alumni often provide us information specifically for the College record or as news, which we will also record on our alumni database. We may also be required by law, in certain specific circumstances, to process this information. To maintain a record of College life, which may be relevant to you individually and which is		compliance with a legal obligation Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone	positive long term relationship with our alumni. The College has a legitimate interest in maintaining a record of its cultural life.	Processing relates to personal data which	a record relating to religious beliefs, political persuasion. However, it is possible that there might be information attached to an alum's record, in a note, in some correspondence from the alum themselves, etc that could provide an indication of such beliefs (e.g. letter from Reverend on headed paper from Church). To the extent that special category data is included in the information stored, this will be	Part 2 of Schedule 1 to the Data Protection Act 2018	to criminal offences or allegations involving donors and supporters including prospective donors and supporters (for example, in relation to money laundering or bribery offences) may also be carried out for the purposes of: 1. complying with, or assisting other persons to comply with, a regulatory requirement which involves the PPH taking steps to establish whether another person has: a. committed an unlawful act, or: b. been involved in dishonesty, malpractice or other seriously improper conduct; and, 2. In the circumstances, St Stephen's House cannot reasonably be expected to obtain your consent to the processing, and the processing is necessary for reasons of substantial public
	your interests, family news, educational history and achievements, employment history and current role details Records of your attendance at College and	University of Oxford (DARS) We obtain this data from you We generate this data about you Third party We obtain this data from the	in order to deepen our ongoing relationship with you. Alumni often provide us information specifically for the College record or as news, which we will also record on our alumni database. We may also be required by law, in certain specific circumstances, to process this information. To maintain a record of College life, which may		compliance with a legal obligation Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the	positive long term relationship with our alumni. The College has a legitimate interest in maintaining a record of its cultural life.	Processing relates to personal data which you have manifestly	a record relating to religious beliefs, political persuasion. However, it is possible that there might be information attached to an alum's record, in a note, in some correspondence from the alum themselves, etc that could provide an indication of such beliefs (e.g. letter from Reverend on headed paper from Church). To the extent that special category data is	Part 2 of Schedule 1 to the Data Protection Act 2018	to criminal offences or allegations involving donors and supporters including prospective donors and supporters (for example, in relation to money laundering or bribery offences) may also be carried out for the purposes of: 1. complying with, or assisting other persons to comply with, a regulatory requirement which involves the PPH taking steps to establish whether another person has: a. committed an unlawful act, or: b. been involved in dishonesty, malpractice or other seriously improper conduct; and, 2. In the circumstances, St Stephen's House cannot reasonably be expected to obtain your consent to the processing, and the processing is necessary for reasons of substantial public
	your interests, family news, educational history and achievements, employment history and current role details Records of your attendance at College and University events, and other involvement in College life, whilst an alumni: photographs and	University of Oxford (DARS) We obtain this data from you We generate this data about you Third party We obtain this data from the University of Oxford	in order to deepen our ongoing relationship with you. Alumni often provide us information specifically for the College record or as news, which we will also record on our alumni database. We may also be required by law, in certain specific circumstances, to process this information. To maintain a record of College life, which may be relevant to you individually and which is also part of the College's own record of what		compliance with a legal obligation Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except	positive long term relationship with our alumni. The College has a legitimate interest in maintaining a record of its cultural life.	Processing relates to personal data which	a record relating to religious beliefs, political persuasion. However, it is possible that there might be information attached to an alum's record, in a note, in some correspondence from the alum themselves, etc that could provide an indication of such beliefs (e.g. letter from Reverend on headed paper from Church). To the extent that special category data is included in the information stored, this will be	Part 2 of Schedule 1 to the Data Protection Act 2018	to criminal offences or allegations involving donors and supporters including prospective donors and supporters (for example, in relation to money laundering or bribery offences) may also be carried out for the purposes of: 1. complying with, or assisting other persons to comply with, a regulatory requirement which involves the PPH taking steps to establish whether another person has: a. committed an unlawful act, or: b. been involved in dishonesty, malpractice or other seriously improper conduct; and, 2. In the circumstances, St Stephen's House cannot reasonably be expected to obtain your consent to the processing, and the processing is necessary for reasons of substantial public
	your interests, family news, educational history and achievements, employment history and current role details Records of your attendance at College and University events, and other involvement in College life, whilst an alumni: photographs and written records of groups, societies, teams,	University of Oxford (DARS) We obtain this data from you We generate this data about you Third party We obtain this data from the University of Oxford We generate this data about you	in order to deepen our ongoing relationship with you. Alumni often provide us information specifically for the College record or as news, which we will also record on our alumni database. We may also be required by law, in certain specific circumstances, to process this information. To maintain a record of College life, which may be relevant to you individually and which is also part of the College's own record of what		compliance with a legal obligation Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data	positive long term relationship with our alumni. The College has a legitimate interest in maintaining a record of its cultural life.	Processing relates to personal data which you have manifestly	a record relating to religious beliefs, political persuasion. However, it is possible that there might be information attached to an alum's record, in a note, in some correspondence from the alum themselves, etc that could provide an indication of such beliefs (e.g. letter from Reverend on headed paper from Church). To the extent that special category data is included in the information stored, this will be	Part 2 of Schedule 1 to the Data Protection Act 2018	to criminal offences or allegations involving donors and supporters including prospective donors and supporters (for example, in relation to money laundering or bribery offences) may also be carried out for the purposes of: 1. complying with, or assisting other persons to comply with, a regulatory requirement which involves the PPH taking steps to establish whether another person has: a. committed an unlawful act, or: b. been involved in dishonesty, malpractice or other seriously improper conduct; and, 2. In the circumstances, St Stephen's House cannot reasonably be expected to obtain your consent to the processing, and the processing is necessary for reasons of substantial public
12	your interests, family news, educational history and achievements, employment history and current role details Records of your attendance at College and University events, and other involvement in College life, whilst an alumni: photographs and written records of groups, societies, teams, sports events and outcomes.	University of Oxford (DARS) We obtain this data from you We generate this data about you Third party We obtain this data from the University of Oxford We generate this data about you Third party	in order to deepen our ongoing relationship with you. Alumni often provide us information specifically for the College record or as news, which we will also record on our alumni database. We may also be required by law, in certain specific circumstances, to process this information. To maintain a record of College life, which may be relevant to you individually and which is also part of the College's own record of what members have achieved over time.	Permanently.	compliance with a legal obligation Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms	positive long term relationship with our alumni. The College has a legitimate interest in maintaining a record of its cultural life.	Processing relates to personal data which you have manifestly made public	a record relating to religious beliefs, political persuasion. However, it is possible that there might be information attached to an alum's record, in a note, in some correspondence from the alum themselves, etc that could provide an indication of such beliefs (e.g. letter from Reverend on headed paper from Church). To the extent that special category data is included in the information stored, this will be data that the relevant alum has made public.	Part 2 of Schedule 1 to the Data Protection Act 2018	to criminal offences or allegations involving donors and supporters including prospective donors and supporters (for example, in relation to money laundering or bribery offences) may also be carried out for the purposes of: 1. complying with, or assisting other persons to comply with, a regulatory requirement which involves the PPH taking steps to establish whether another person has: a. committed an unlawful act, or: b. been involved in dishonesty, malpractice or other seriously improper conduct; and, 2. In the circumstances, St Stephen's House cannot reasonably be expected to obtain your consent to the processing, and the processing is necessary for reasons of substantial public
12	your interests, family news, educational history and achievements, employment history and current role details Records of your attendance at College and University events, and other involvement in College life, whilst an alumni: photographs and written records of groups, societies, teams, sports events and outcomes. Public awards, honours and academic prizes	University of Oxford (DARS) We obtain this data from you We generate this data about you Third party We obtain this data from the University of Oxford We generate this data about you Third party We obtain this data from the	in order to deepen our ongoing relationship with you. Alumni often provide us information specifically for the College record or as news, which we will also record on our alumni database. We may also be required by law, in certain specific circumstances, to process this information. To maintain a record of College life, which may be relevant to you individually and which is also part of the College's own record of what members have achieved over time. We retain a record of prestigious awards and	Permanently.	compliance with a legal obligation Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the	positive long term relationship with our alumni. The College has a legitimate interest in maintaining a record of its cultural life. We, and you, have a legitimate interest is	Processing relates to personal data which you have manifestly made public	a record relating to religious beliefs, political persuasion. However, it is possible that there might be information attached to an alum's record, in a note, in some correspondence from the alum themselves, etc that could provide an indication of such beliefs (e.g. letter from Reverend on headed paper from Church). To the extent that special category data is included in the information stored, this will be data that the relevant alum has made public. To the extent that special category data is	Part 2 of Schedule 1 to the Data Protection Act 2018	to criminal offences or allegations involving donors and supporters including prospective donors and supporters (for example, in relation to money laundering or bribery offences) may also be carried out for the purposes of: 1. complying with, or assisting other persons to comply with, a regulatory requirement which involves the PPH taking steps to establish whether another person has: a. committed an unlawful act, or: b. been involved in dishonesty, malpractice or other seriously improper conduct; and, 2. In the circumstances, St Stephen's House cannot reasonably be expected to obtain your consent to the processing, and the processing is necessary for reasons of substantial public
12	your interests, family news, educational history and achievements, employment history and current role details Records of your attendance at College and University events, and other involvement in College life, whilst an alumni: photographs and written records of groups, societies, teams, sports events and outcomes.	University of Oxford (DARS) We obtain this data from you We generate this data about you Third party We obtain this data from the University of Oxford We generate this data about you Third party We obtain this data from you Third party (DARS, university	in order to deepen our ongoing relationship with you. Alumni often provide us information specifically for the College record or as news, which we will also record on our alumni database. We may also be required by law, in certain specific circumstances, to process this information. To maintain a record of College life, which may be relevant to you individually and which is also part of the College's own record of what members have achieved over time. We retain a record of prestigious awards and honours received by our alumni, to recognise	Permanently.	compliance with a legal obligation Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone	positive long term relationship with our alumni. The College has a legitimate interest in maintaining a record of its cultural life. We, and you, have a legitimate interest is acting to deepen our relationships with	Processing relates to personal data which you have manifestly made public Processing relates to personal data which	a record relating to religious beliefs, political persuasion. However, it is possible that there might be information attached to an alum's record, in a note, in some correspondence from the alum themselves, etc that could provide an indication of such beliefs (e.g. letter from Reverend on headed paper from Church). To the extent that special category data is included in the information stored, this will be data that the relevant alum has made public. To the extent that special category data is relevant, we only collect and process that data	Part 2 of Schedule 1 to the Data Protection Act 2018	to criminal offences or allegations involving donors and supporters including prospective donors and supporters (for example, in relation to money laundering or bribery offences) may also be carried out for the purposes of: 1. complying with, or assisting other persons to comply with, a regulatory requirement which involves the PPH taking steps to establish whether another person has: a. committed an unlawful act, or: b. been involved in dishonesty, malpractice or other seriously improper conduct; and, 2. In the circumstances, St Stephen's House cannot reasonably be expected to obtain your consent to the processing, and the processing is necessary for reasons of substantial public
12	your interests, family news, educational history and achievements, employment history and current role details Records of your attendance at College and University events, and other involvement in College life, whilst an alumni: photographs and written records of groups, societies, teams, sports events and outcomes. Public awards, honours and academic prizes	University of Oxford (DARS) We obtain this data from you We generate this data about you Third party We obtain this data from the University of Oxford We generate this data about you Third party We obtain this data from you Third party (DARS, university system)	in order to deepen our ongoing relationship with you. Alumni often provide us information specifically for the College record or as news, which we will also record on our alumni database. We may also be required by law, in certain specific circumstances, to process this information. To maintain a record of College life, which may be relevant to you individually and which is also part of the College's own record of what members have achieved over time. We retain a record of prestigious awards and honours received by our alumni, to recognise the achievements of our alumni body, and to	Permanently.	compliance with a legal obligation Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms	positive long term relationship with our alumni. The College has a legitimate interest in maintaining a record of its cultural life. We, and you, have a legitimate interest is acting to deepen our relationships with alumni. We also have a legitimate interest in	Processing relates to personal data which you have manifestly made public Processing relates to personal data which you have manifestly	a record relating to religious beliefs, political persuasion. However, it is possible that there might be information attached to an alum's record, in a note, in some correspondence from the alum themselves, etc that could provide an indication of such beliefs (e.g. letter from Reverend on headed paper from Church). To the extent that special category data is included in the information stored, this will be data that the relevant alum has made public. To the extent that special category data is relevant, we only collect and process that data in this context if it were available from the	Part 2 of Schedule 1 to the Data Protection Act 2018	to criminal offences or allegations involving donors and supporters including prospective donors and supporters (for example, in relation to money laundering or bribery offences) may also be carried out for the purposes of: 1. complying with, or assisting other persons to comply with, a regulatory requirement which involves the PPH taking steps to establish whether another person has: a. committed an unlawful act, or: b. been involved in dishonesty, malpractice or other seriously improper conduct; and, 2. In the circumstances, St Stephen's House cannot reasonably be expected to obtain your consent to the processing, and the processing is necessary for reasons of substantial public
12	your interests, family news, educational history and achievements, employment history and current role details Records of your attendance at College and University events, and other involvement in College life, whilst an alumni: photographs and written records of groups, societies, teams, sports events and outcomes. Public awards, honours and academic prizes	University of Oxford (DARS) We obtain this data from you We generate this data about you Third party We obtain this data from the University of Oxford We generate this data about you Third party We obtain this data from you Third party (DARS, university	in order to deepen our ongoing relationship with you. Alumni often provide us information specifically for the College record or as news, which we will also record on our alumni database. We may also be required by law, in certain specific circumstances, to process this information. To maintain a record of College life, which may be relevant to you individually and which is also part of the College's own record of what members have achieved over time. We retain a record of prestigious awards and honours received by our alumni, to recognise	Permanently.	compliance with a legal obligation Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data	positive long term relationship with our alumni. The College has a legitimate interest in maintaining a record of its cultural life. We, and you, have a legitimate interest is acting to deepen our relationships with alumni. We also have a legitimate interest in recognising the achievements of alumni, both	Processing relates to personal data which you have manifestly made public Processing relates to personal data which you have manifestly	a record relating to religious beliefs, political persuasion. However, it is possible that there might be information attached to an alum's record, in a note, in some correspondence from the alum themselves, etc that could provide an indication of such beliefs (e.g. letter from Reverend on headed paper from Church). To the extent that special category data is included in the information stored, this will be data that the relevant alum has made public. To the extent that special category data is relevant, we only collect and process that data in this context if it were available from the public sources announcing the award/honour,	Part 2 of Schedule 1 to the Data Protection Act 2018 N/A	to criminal offences or allegations involving donors and supporters including prospective donors and supporters (for example, in relation to money laundering or bribery offences) may also be carried out for the purposes of: 1. complying with, or assisting other persons to comply with, a regulatory requirement which involves the PPH taking steps to establish whether another person has: a. committed an unlawful act, or: b. been involved in dishonesty, malpractice or other seriously improper conduct; and, 2. In the circumstances, St Stephen's House cannot reasonably be expected to obtain your consent to the processing, and the processing is necessary for reasons of substantial public
12	your interests, family news, educational history and achievements, employment history and current role details Records of your attendance at College and University events, and other involvement in College life, whilst an alumni: photographs and written records of groups, societies, teams, sports events and outcomes. Public awards, honours and academic prizes	University of Oxford (DARS) We obtain this data from you We generate this data about you Third party We obtain this data from the University of Oxford We generate this data about you Third party We obtain this data from you Third party (DARS, university system)	in order to deepen our ongoing relationship with you. Alumni often provide us information specifically for the College record or as news, which we will also record on our alumni database. We may also be required by law, in certain specific circumstances, to process this information. To maintain a record of College life, which may be relevant to you individually and which is also part of the College's own record of what members have achieved over time. We retain a record of prestigious awards and honours received by our alumni, to recognise the achievements of our alumni body, and to facilitate interactions and communications	Permanently.	compliance with a legal obligation Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms	positive long term relationship with our alumni. The College has a legitimate interest in maintaining a record of its cultural life. We, and you, have a legitimate interest is acting to deepen our relationships with alumni. We also have a legitimate interest in	Processing relates to personal data which you have manifestly made public Processing relates to personal data which you have manifestly	a record relating to religious beliefs, political persuasion. However, it is possible that there might be information attached to an alum's record, in a note, in some correspondence from the alum themselves, etc that could provide an indication of such beliefs (e.g. letter from Reverend on headed paper from Church). To the extent that special category data is included in the information stored, this will be data that the relevant alum has made public. To the extent that special category data is relevant, we only collect and process that data in this context if it were available from the	Part 2 of Schedule 1 to the Data Protection Act 2018 N/A	to criminal offences or allegations involving donors and supporters including prospective donors and supporters (for example, in relation to money laundering or bribery offences) may also be carried out for the purposes of: 1. complying with, or assisting other persons to comply with, a regulatory requirement which involves the PPH taking steps to establish whether another person has: a. committed an unlawful act, or: b. been involved in dishonesty, malpractice or other seriously improper conduct; and, 2. In the circumstances, St Stephen's House cannot reasonably be expected to obtain your consent to the processing, and the processing is necessary for reasons of substantial public
12	your interests, family news, educational history and achievements, employment history and current role details Records of your attendance at College and University events, and other involvement in College life, whilst an alumni: photographs and written records of groups, societies, teams, sports events and outcomes. Public awards, honours and academic prizes received by Alumni.	University of Oxford (DARS) We obtain this data from you We generate this data about you Third party We obtain this data from the University of Oxford We generate this data about you Third party We obtain this data from you Third party (DARS, university system) Public directories	in order to deepen our ongoing relationship with you. Alumni often provide us information specifically for the College record or as news, which we will also record on our alumni database. We may also be required by law, in certain specific circumstances, to process this information. To maintain a record of College life, which may be relevant to you individually and which is also part of the College's own record of what members have achieved over time. We retain a record of prestigious awards and honours received by our alumni, to recognise the achievements of our alumni body, and to facilitate interactions and communications between ourselves and the relevant individuals.	Permanently. Permanently.	compliance with a legal obligation Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms	positive long term relationship with our alumni. The College has a legitimate interest in maintaining a record of its cultural life. We, and you, have a legitimate interest is acting to deepen our relationships with alumni. We also have a legitimate interest in recognising the achievements of alumni, both within our records and at a public level.	Processing relates to personal data which you have manifestly made public Processing relates to personal data which you have manifestly made public	a record relating to religious beliefs, political persuasion. However, it is possible that there might be information attached to an alum's record, in a note, in some correspondence from the alum themselves, etc that could provide an indication of such beliefs (e.g. letter from Reverend on headed paper from Church). To the extent that special category data is included in the information stored, this will be data that the relevant alum has made public. To the extent that special category data is relevant, we only collect and process that data in this context if it were available from the public sources announcing the award/honour, where you chose to provide the information to	Part 2 of Schedule 1 to the Data Protection Act 2018 N/A	to criminal offences or allegations involving donors and supporters including prospective donors and supporters (for example, in relation to money laundering or bribery offences) may also be carried out for the purposes of: 1. complying with, or assisting other persons to comply with, a regulatory requirement which involves the PPH taking steps to establish whether another person has: a. committed an unlawful act, or: b. been involved in dishonesty, malpractice or other seriously improper conduct; and, 2. In the circumstances, St Stephen's House cannot reasonably be expected to obtain your consent to the processing, and the processing is necessary for reasons of substantial public
12	your interests, family news, educational history and achievements, employment history and current role details Records of your attendance at College and University events, and other involvement in College life, whilst an alumni: photographs and written records of groups, societies, teams, sports events and outcomes. Public awards, honours and academic prizes received by Alumni.	University of Oxford (DARS) We obtain this data from you We generate this data about you Third party We obtain this data from the University of Oxford We generate this data about you Third party We obtain this data from you Third party (DARS, university system) Public directories	in order to deepen our ongoing relationship with you. Alumni often provide us information specifically for the College record or as news, which we will also record on our alumni database. We may also be required by law, in certain specific circumstances, to process this information. To maintain a record of College life, which may be relevant to you individually and which is also part of the College's own record of what members have achieved over time. We retain a record of prestigious awards and honours received by our alumni, to recognise the achievements of our alumni body, and to facilitate interactions and communications between ourselves and the relevant individuals.	Permanently.	compliance with a legal obligation Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms	positive long term relationship with our alumni. The College has a legitimate interest in maintaining a record of its cultural life. We, and you, have a legitimate interest is acting to deepen our relationships with alumni. We also have a legitimate interest in recognising the achievements of alumni, both within our records and at a public level. We, and you, have a legitimate interest in	Processing relates to personal data which you have manifestly made public Processing relates to personal data which you have manifestly	a record relating to religious beliefs, political persuasion. However, it is possible that there might be information attached to an alum's record, in a note, in some correspondence from the alum themselves, etc that could provide an indication of such beliefs (e.g. letter from Reverend on headed paper from Church). To the extent that special category data is included in the information stored, this will be data that the relevant alum has made public. To the extent that special category data is relevant, we only collect and process that data in this context if it were available from the public sources announcing the award/honour, where you chose to provide the information to us and (where relevant) consented to our	Part 2 of Schedule 1 to the Data Protection Act 2018 N/A	to criminal offences or allegations involving donors and supporters including prospective donors and supporters (for example, in relation to money laundering or bribery offences) may also be carried out for the purposes of: 1. complying with, or assisting other persons to comply with, a regulatory requirement which involves the PPH taking steps to establish whether another person has: a. committed an unlawful act, or: b. been involved in dishonesty, malpractice or other seriously improper conduct; and, 2. In the circumstances, St Stephen's House cannot reasonably be expected to obtain your consent to the processing, and the processing is necessary for reasons of substantial public
12	your interests, family news, educational history and achievements, employment history and current role details Records of your attendance at College and University events, and other involvement in College life, whilst an alumni: photographs and written records of groups, societies, teams, sports events and outcomes. Public awards, honours and academic prizes received by Alumni. Subjects you studied and the type(s) of degree awarded (though not your results, which are	University of Oxford (DARS) We obtain this data from you We generate this data about you Third party We obtain this data from the University of Oxford We generate this data about you Third party We obtain this data from you Third party (DARS, university system) Public directories We obtain this data from the University of Oxford and DARS	in order to deepen our ongoing relationship with you. Alumni often provide us information specifically for the College record or as news, which we will also record on our alumni database. We may also be required by law, in certain specific circumstances, to process this information. To maintain a record of College life, which may be relevant to you individually and which is also part of the College's own record of what members have achieved over time. We retain a record of prestigious awards and honours received by our alumni, to recognise the achievements of our alumni body, and to facilitate interactions and communications between ourselves and the relevant individuals.	Permanently. Permanently.	compliance with a legal obligation Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone	positive long term relationship with our alumni. The College has a legitimate interest in maintaining a record of its cultural life. We, and you, have a legitimate interest is acting to deepen our relationships with alumni. We also have a legitimate interest in recognising the achievements of alumni, both within our records and at a public level. We, and you, have a legitimate interest in contacting you regarding relevant events and	Processing relates to personal data which you have manifestly made public Processing relates to personal data which you have manifestly made public	a record relating to religious beliefs, political persuasion. However, it is possible that there might be information attached to an alum's record, in a note, in some correspondence from the alum themselves, etc that could provide an indication of such beliefs (e.g. letter from Reverend on headed paper from Church). To the extent that special category data is included in the information stored, this will be data that the relevant alum has made public. To the extent that special category data is relevant, we only collect and process that data in this context if it were available from the public sources announcing the award/honour, where you chose to provide the information to us and (where relevant) consented to our	Part 2 of Schedule 1 to the Data Protection Act 2018 N/A	to criminal offences or allegations involving donors and supporters including prospective donors and supporters (for example, in relation to money laundering or bribery offences) may also be carried out for the purposes of: 1. complying with, or assisting other persons to comply with, a regulatory requirement which involves the PPH taking steps to establish whether another person has: a. committed an unlawful act, or: b. been involved in dishonesty, malpractice or other seriously improper conduct; and, 2. In the circumstances, St Stephen's House cannot reasonably be expected to obtain your consent to the processing, and the processing is necessary for reasons of substantial public
12	your interests, family news, educational history and achievements, employment history and current role details Records of your attendance at College and University events, and other involvement in College life, whilst an alumni: photographs and written records of groups, societies, teams, sports events and outcomes. Public awards, honours and academic prizes received by Alumni.	University of Oxford (DARS) We obtain this data from you We generate this data about you Third party We obtain this data from the University of Oxford We generate this data about you Third party We obtain this data from you Third party (DARS, university system) Public directories We obtain this data from the University of Oxford and DARS We obtain this data from you	in order to deepen our ongoing relationship with you. Alumni often provide us information specifically for the College record or as news, which we will also record on our alumni database. We may also be required by law, in certain specific circumstances, to process this information. To maintain a record of College life, which may be relevant to you individually and which is also part of the College's own record of what members have achieved over time. We retain a record of prestigious awards and honours received by our alumni, to recognise the achievements of our alumni body, and to facilitate interactions and communications between ourselves and the relevant individuals. For the purposes of ensuring that we invite alumni back to relevant reunion events or to events they might be interested in, and to	Permanently. Permanently.	compliance with a legal obligation Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms	positive long term relationship with our alumni. The College has a legitimate interest in maintaining a record of its cultural life. We, and you, have a legitimate interest is acting to deepen our relationships with alumni. We also have a legitimate interest in recognising the achievements of alumni, both within our records and at a public level. We, and you, have a legitimate interest in contacting you regarding relevant events and	Processing relates to personal data which you have manifestly made public Processing relates to personal data which you have manifestly made public	a record relating to religious beliefs, political persuasion. However, it is possible that there might be information attached to an alum's record, in a note, in some correspondence from the alum themselves, etc that could provide an indication of such beliefs (e.g. letter from Reverend on headed paper from Church). To the extent that special category data is included in the information stored, this will be data that the relevant alum has made public. To the extent that special category data is relevant, we only collect and process that data in this context if it were available from the public sources announcing the award/honour, where you chose to provide the information to us and (where relevant) consented to our	Part 2 of Schedule 1 to the Data Protection Act 2018 N/A	to criminal offences or allegations involving donors and supporters including prospective donors and supporters (for example, in relation to money laundering or bribery offences) may also be carried out for the purposes of: 1. complying with, or assisting other persons to comply with, a regulatory requirement which involves the PPH taking steps to establish whether another person has: a. committed an unlawful act, or: b. been involved in dishonesty, malpractice or other seriously improper conduct; and, 2. In the circumstances, St Stephen's House cannot reasonably be expected to obtain your consent to the processing, and the processing is necessary for reasons of substantial public
12	your interests, family news, educational history and achievements, employment history and current role details Records of your attendance at College and University events, and other involvement in College life, whilst an alumni: photographs and written records of groups, societies, teams, sports events and outcomes. Public awards, honours and academic prizes received by Alumni. Subjects you studied and the type(s) of degree awarded (though not your results, which are	University of Oxford (DARS) We obtain this data from you We generate this data about you Third party We obtain this data from the University of Oxford We generate this data about you Third party We obtain this data from you Third party (DARS, university system) Public directories We obtain this data from the University of Oxford and DARS We obtain this data from you We generate this data from you We generate this data about	in order to deepen our ongoing relationship with you. Alumni often provide us information specifically for the College record or as news, which we will also record on our alumni database. We may also be required by law, in certain specific circumstances, to process this information. To maintain a record of College life, which may be relevant to you individually and which is also part of the College's own record of what members have achieved over time. We retain a record of prestigious awards and honours received by our alumni, to recognise the achievements of our alumni body, and to facilitate interactions and communications between ourselves and the relevant individuals. For the purposes of ensuring that we invite alumni back to relevant reunion events or to events they might be interested in, and to keep them up to date with news from their	Permanently. Permanently.	compliance with a legal obligation Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms	positive long term relationship with our alumni. The College has a legitimate interest in maintaining a record of its cultural life. We, and you, have a legitimate interest is acting to deepen our relationships with alumni. We also have a legitimate interest in recognising the achievements of alumni, both within our records and at a public level. We, and you, have a legitimate interest in contacting you regarding relevant events and	Processing relates to personal data which you have manifestly made public Processing relates to personal data which you have manifestly made public	a record relating to religious beliefs, political persuasion. However, it is possible that there might be information attached to an alum's record, in a note, in some correspondence from the alum themselves, etc that could provide an indication of such beliefs (e.g. letter from Reverend on headed paper from Church). To the extent that special category data is included in the information stored, this will be data that the relevant alum has made public. To the extent that special category data is relevant, we only collect and process that data in this context if it were available from the public sources announcing the award/honour, where you chose to provide the information to us and (where relevant) consented to our	Part 2 of Schedule 1 to the Data Protection Act 2018 N/A	to criminal offences or allegations involving donors and supporters including prospective donors and supporters (for example, in relation to money laundering or bribery offences) may also be carried out for the purposes of: 1. complying with, or assisting other persons to comply with, a regulatory requirement which involves the PPH taking steps to establish whether another person has: a. committed an unlawful act, or: b. been involved in dishonesty, malpractice or other seriously improper conduct; and, 2. In the circumstances, St Stephen's House cannot reasonably be expected to obtain your consent to the processing, and the processing is necessary for reasons of substantial public
12	your interests, family news, educational history and achievements, employment history and current role details Records of your attendance at College and University events, and other involvement in College life, whilst an alumni: photographs and written records of groups, societies, teams, sports events and outcomes. Public awards, honours and academic prizes received by Alumni. Subjects you studied and the type(s) of degree awarded (though not your results, which are	University of Oxford (DARS) We obtain this data from you We generate this data about you Third party We obtain this data from the University of Oxford We generate this data about you Third party We obtain this data from you Third party (DARS, university system) Public directories We obtain this data from the University of Oxford and DARS We obtain this data from you	in order to deepen our ongoing relationship with you. Alumni often provide us information specifically for the College record or as news, which we will also record on our alumni database. We may also be required by law, in certain specific circumstances, to process this information. To maintain a record of College life, which may be relevant to you individually and which is also part of the College's own record of what members have achieved over time. We retain a record of prestigious awards and honours received by our alumni, to recognise the achievements of our alumni body, and to facilitate interactions and communications between ourselves and the relevant individuals. For the purposes of ensuring that we invite alumni back to relevant reunion events or to events they might be interested in, and to	Permanently. Permanently.	compliance with a legal obligation Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms Processing is necessary for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms	positive long term relationship with our alumni. The College has a legitimate interest in maintaining a record of its cultural life. We, and you, have a legitimate interest is acting to deepen our relationships with alumni. We also have a legitimate interest in recognising the achievements of alumni, both within our records and at a public level. We, and you, have a legitimate interest in contacting you regarding relevant events and	Processing relates to personal data which you have manifestly made public Processing relates to personal data which you have manifestly made public	a record relating to religious beliefs, political persuasion. However, it is possible that there might be information attached to an alum's record, in a note, in some correspondence from the alum themselves, etc that could provide an indication of such beliefs (e.g. letter from Reverend on headed paper from Church). To the extent that special category data is included in the information stored, this will be data that the relevant alum has made public. To the extent that special category data is relevant, we only collect and process that data in this context if it were available from the public sources announcing the award/honour, where you chose to provide the information to us and (where relevant) consented to our	Part 2 of Schedule 1 to the Data Protection Act 2018 N/A	to criminal offences or allegations involving donors and supporters including prospective donors and supporters (for example, in relation to money laundering or bribery offences) may also be carried out for the purposes of: 1. complying with, or assisting other persons to comply with, a regulatory requirement which involves the PPH taking steps to establish whether another person has: a. committed an unlawful act, or: b. been involved in dishonesty, malpractice or other seriously improper conduct; and, 2. In the circumstances, St Stephen's House cannot reasonably be expected to obtain your consent to the processing, and the processing is necessary for reasons of substantial public